Press Release

Gütt Olk Feldhaus advises on the sale of the high performance database system HyPer to Tableau Software, Inc.

Munich, March 10, 2016 – The German business law firm Gütt Olk Feldhaus advised the seller of the HyPer business, a high performance database system, to Tableau Software, Inc., Seattle. HyPer is a fast main-memory database system designed for simultaneous OLTP and OLAP processing without compromising performance.

HyPer grew out of a research project started in 2010 by professors Dr. Thomas Neumann and Dr. Alfons Kemper, chair of the database group of the Technical University of Munich. Four of the project's Ph.D. students, Tobias Mühlbauer, Wolf Rödiger, Viktor Leis and Jan Finis, will join Tableau, focused on integrating HyPer into Tableau products. The parties agreed to keep the purchase price confidential.

Tableau Software, Inc. is one of the leading providers of self-service software for data analysis. The shares of Tableau Software, Inc. are listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Legal advisor to the sellers:

Gütt Olk Feldhaus (Munich): Attila Oldag (Partner) and Katalin Siklosi (Associate) (both Corporate/M&A)

Lexantis (Cologne): Thomas Becker (IP/IT)

Stockum & Partner mbB (Frankfurt): Marc Sälzer (Tax)
