Gütt Olk Feldhaus boosts finance practice with the hiring of Julian J. Zaich as a new partner

Munich, August 31, 2017 – As of 1 September 2017 law firm Gütt Olk Feldhaus further strengthens its practice with Julian J. Zaich as a new partner. The 44-year-old joins from Linklaters LLP in Frankfurt, where he was a partner in the Banking/Restructuring & Insolvency group since 2007.

Julian Zaich advises domestic and international banks, lenders and companies on a broad spectrum of financing matters. He specializes in syndicated loans, acquisition and project finance. A further focus of his practice is advising in the context of financial restructurings of companies.

Having joined Linklaters in 2000, Julian has led a number of high profile transactions and built himself an excellent reputation. He has been ranked as a frequently recommended lawyer by German legal directory JUVE in the area of loans and acquisition financing for several years in a row and is also listed in this area of law by other leading directories, such as Chambers or Who's Who Legal.

„Julian fits perfectly within our team. With exactly the right areas of expertise and his outstanding personality he is the perfect match for us“, says Dr Tilmann Gütt on behalf of the partners of Gütt Olk Feldhaus. „Given his many years of experience in the areas of financing and restructuring, we are convinced that his practice will further strengthen the offering for our clients. “

„I was impressed by the way Gütt Olk Feldhaus managed to build a first-class reputation in their core areas of corporate/M&A, private equity and financing within just a few years“, Julian Zaich says about his new firm. „We share the same partnership values, as well as the ambition, to provide first class legal advice to our clients in order to establish us as their preferred advisers in our core areas. This will be a perfect basis to further expand and develop our firm.“
